The expectations and requirements for this course should be worked out between the student and advisor on an individual basis and formulated in writing.